Hill 'N Hollow Quilters Guild

Volume 39, Issue 3

President's Corner

Well, here I am sitting at home and writing my letter for the March newsletter instead of attending our quilt guild meeting. The infamous Arkansas weather has struck once again. We had an awesome meeting planned for today. After a long hiatus from meeting at the Food Bank, we are once again going to use the beautiful facilities for our meetings. The QOV group was going to present today's program and along with a showing of beautiful patriotic quilts, they had a surprise planned as well. I don't know what the surprise was but I'm sure it would have been perfect for today's meeting. Another highlight planned for today's meeting was the unveiling of our 2022 Raffle quilt. I saw a picture of the quilt but I'm sure the picture didn't do justice to the beauty of the quilt.

To ease my disappointment concerning the guild cancellation, I have focused my attention on packing and repacking more quilting projects for our retreat. Packing projects for the retreat reminds me of my favorite joke.

A rich farmer, who lived in Texas, owned a large number of exotic animals. As exotic animals are wont to do, many of them had reproduced beyond the point where the rich farmer could satisfactorily care for them.

The rich farmer called his ranch hand over and said, "Take the penguins to the zoo."

Bright and early the next morning the ranchhand loaded up the penguins and took them to the zoo. When the rich farmer returned home later that day, he was greeted by the penguins. Outraged, the rich farmer started yelling at the ranch hand, "I told you to take those penguins to the zoo!". The ranchhand smiled and replied, "I did take them to the zoo and they had so much fun that tomorrow I am taking them to the park."

Most of my craft/quilting projects are like the penguins they enjoy traveling around the area with me. They never leave their suitcases. but I am sure that the projects have a good time traveling to different places. Sometimes, I take the projects out of the suitcase, kiss them, smell them, refold them, and place them back into the suitcase. My husband is always amazed by this behavior but over the years has learned not to question it.

With luck, our April meeting will come off without a problem. We have a special guest presenting the April program. Barb Eikmeier will be presenting her trunk show "It's All in the Sashing". Also, we will need to vote on the 2022 budget. By April, we should have our Raffle Quilt and tickets ready to hit the road and we should have a list of venues for selling raffle quilt tickets. We need everyone's help in selling tickets. Remember, this is our major fundraiser for the year.

Hope to see you in April. Stay Safe,
Ann Wilson

Help Wanted

The 2022 raffle quilt, Winter Solstice is done, and it's beautiful! Wait until you see what Patti Kratz did with the quilting!

Now it needs a label. Do you have a machine with embroidery capability? Would you be willing to take on this task? If so, contact me at vkauth816@gmail.com.

Thanks.
Vicki

Hello fellow guild members!

I'm Patti Kratz, a fairly new guild member, and I'm keeper of the raffle tickets this year!

I was also the quilter on this year's quilt. This, of course, got my mind a spinning. To try and make this one of the best years ever, I will be giving 'prizes' to the top ticket seller of each month. Hopefully I'll be able to let you know before the end of each meeting. A final 'Grand Prize' will be given out at the November meeting.

Hope this helps get y'all's selling vibes going, and Good Luck to all!

Patti Kratz

Membership

As of March 12, 2022, we have 81 members. The membership pins have just been received, so they will be available at the April meeting to those members who have not yet received your membership pin. Stop by the Membership table to pick up your pin.

Membership Co-Chair

Communications

Because our March guild meeting being cancelled due to snowy weather, the Members Only new password will be changed in April. I need a volunteer who would send off guild news to our local papers. I will help with editing and sourcing. Thanks again to Carolyn Bisbee for volunteering to help me with the website maintenance.

Education

April Workshop and Meeting Program

"It's All in the Sashing" workshop presented by Barb Eikmeier is Thursday April 7. It will be at the 7th Day Adventist Church beginning at 9 am (doors will be open by 8 so everyone will have plenty of time to get set up). It is a 6-hour workshop so everyone should bring a sack lunch and drink in addition to items listed on the supply list.

Friday April 8, at our monthly guild meeting, Barb Eikmeier will present the program/trunk show featuring various sashing techniques. The guild meeting will be held at the Food Bank location.

Hospitality

I sure missed seeing everyone in March. I always look forward to our meetings.

NOTE TO NEW MEMBERS – Since you did not get your New Member “pin” at the February meeting and there was no March meeting, please let us know when you check in at the April meeting. I’ll have them ready and waiting for you.

I recently looked at the “Volunteer History” on our website. Have you ever done that? There is a lot of great information on our website. I did notice that our “Local Resources” hasn’t been updated in quite some time. Who’s willing to update it this time?

Meeting Space

I will be heading up a committee to further investigate the Resurrection Church on Hwy 62 as a potential location for our Guild. I could use a couple of people who would be willing to help. Thank you!

Quilt Congress 2022

Have you checked out the Quilt Congress tab on the Guild's website?

The following information is there for your convenience:

- ✓ Registration Packet – includes workshop descriptions, supplies, etc.- Challenge details -costs – locations, etc.
- ✓ Vendor Registration Packet – Ask your favorite quilt shop to register as a vendor.
- ✓ Summary of Quilt Congress Events
- ✓ Quilt Congress Flier
- ✓ Register early, as we are already receiving registrations from other Guilds.

Take a look at the Challenge quilt entries we had in 2014! Get your thinking cap on and enter the 2022 Congress Challenge.

And the Challenge award winners in 2014 included Hill 'N Hollow Quilter Guild member Annie Wagar! You could be a winner in 2022!

If not too late. Worked on at Retreat and finished at home. Two to go Maureen

We didn't do this this year, but I had a great "ride" at the retreat. The committee did a fantastic job in every way! Thank you!!! My daughter Maurena sends her thanks, too. It was wonderful that she could be there with me.

The picture was taken at a previous retreat.

Margie Dotson

Wow! What a great retreat in Branson. Lots of quilting, games, shopping and camaraderie.

I was busy making quilty things like baby "taggie" blankets and toys, bowl cozies, and wool applique notebook covers.

My daughters Kris, Jenny, and I have a booth at the Women's Expo at Stone Creek Ranch in Mountain Home. Check out their Facebook page for more information. Kris is making beautiful wreaths and plant displays. Jenny is a macrame artist, she makes beautiful macrame with weaving designs, wall-hangings and macrame plant hangers. I make quilts and wool applique items.

We are on Instagram.

Kris is urban mermaid1959

Jenny is knotty girl. 73 macrame.

I am Wooly mama2.

Come see us at the Women's Expo at Stone Creek Ranch, on April 8th, 9:00 - 5:00, and on April 9th from 9:00 - 4:00.

Happy Quilting

Anyone wanting to enter a quilt in the Searcy County Quilt Show can bring their quilts to the Hill 'N Hollow meeting in April. I will take them and check them in for you. You will need to pick them up around 4 p.m. on April 30. As usual, folks who must travel will be checked out first.

We hope to see some HNH members at our quilt show.

I have a flower bed that runs along my driveway and across the front of my house that needs tilling and cleaning up. Does anyone know anyone who does this type of thing? The man who takes care of my yard usually does it for me, but he has had several operations and cannot do it this year.
