

Autumn in the Ozarks and Country
Quilters Quilt Show Judge

Sherry Massey embarked on her quilting journey in 1980. With numerous quilts to her credit, she holds the distinction of being Oklahoma's first NACQJ Certified Judge. She is a member of the Edmond Quilt Guild, having served as the chairman of the Edmond Quilt Festival and most recently as judging coordinator, a role that offers both educational value and personal fulfillment. Her quilts have been juried into the Paducah Fall Show and the Houston International Quilt Show. Additionally, she is an active participant in a small group dedicated to creating quilts for Boys' Ranch Town.

As an NACQJ certified quilt judge, Sherry is committed to using her extensive experience and training to deliver objective, encouraging, and constructive feedback on all quilt submissions. Her primary objectives include recognizing creativity and skill while offering impartial guidance on future design choices when appropriate. She approaches her judging responsibilities with passion and enthusiasm, adhering to NACQJ standards and ethics, continuing her professional development, and contributing positively to the advancement of the art of quilting.

For more information about Autumn in the Ozarks Quilt Show, visit <https://hillnhollowquilters.com/2025-quilt-show/>